Dear Editor,
On a rainy, late December Saturday, the Fairview Reunion Corporation's "1st Annual Christmas Give" exceeded all expectations with more than 100 Christmas dinners being distributed to families in our community. President Darrell Barrett, the "unofficial Mayor of Fairview" and First Lady Ammie Barrett, would like to thank all of those who braved the inclement weather and participated in the FRC's First Annual "caring and sharing" program with the community. Kudos especially go to those who helped serve the community by "getting the word out," including FRC First

Vice-President Malthus Northcutt and his lovely wife Rose, our partners, Chris and Debbie Spencer of Crump's Food Center, The Cass County Sun, KPYN 900 AM, members and friends of the FRC, and local churches. Also, thanks go to the difference makers working behind the scenes, including but not limited to, former FRC President Frances Brown Allen, FRC Historian Horace D. Hodge, Kenneth J. Smith, Jerry Don Thompson and Roderrick Lawson, who labored unselfishly to help make this event a grand success. As they say in the movie industry, "Please stay tuned for coming attractions" as the FRC looks forward to further "caring and sharing" with the community by additionally instituting a "Toys for Tots" program for Christmas 2014. As always, your help in making this happen will be greatly needed and deeply appreciated.

Sincerely,
Fairview Reunion Corporation

voucher entitled recipients to one turkey, two cans each of green beans, whole kernel corn and cranberry sauce, and one package of brown and serve rolls. Others received the items at the center. Organizers said the first Christmas Give exceeded all expectations with more than 100 people braving the cold and rain to receive a meal to prepare for Christmas.

54, of Bloomburg was pronounced dead at the scene by Precinct 1 Justice of the Peace Barbara McMilton. His body was transported to Reeder-Davis Funeral Home in Hughes Springs. Stewart said judging from all indicators the driver, McBryde, may have fallen asleep while driving and crossed over the centerline. Both drivers were wearing seat belts and the airbag did deploy in McBryde's vehicle. Assisting officers were DPS Officers Joshua Williams and Gregory Williams, Linden Police Department and the Cass County Sheriff's Office.
